Unit Description

This unit will develop the notion of the relationship between a client and a sport photographer – this might be a team or a venue or a commissioner but what is explored is the need to work across various disciplines to produce a negotiated outcome. This outcome might be to promote a brand or team endeavour or related to a specific event or outcome and this will be in a negotiated format which might draw upon skills within touchline or editorial sport photography.

The unit will require you to work directly with a set of deliverables based on the approach chosen and this will also help you develop a further understanding of sequencing, editing and narrative as a result.

You will be able to consolidate skills acquired at level four in terms of lighting, capture and output as well as fully exploring how aspects of branding and story-telling can be developed through photographs and this might extend into how design and layout also supports a message or position.

This unit draws heavily on the principles of Collaborate and Integrate in that the collective endeavour of the editorial process is applied throughout the unit. You can be assured that given the experience of publishing within the course team that expectations of an industry relevant education are being met.

The Five Principles underpin the Mindsets and Skillsets Manifesto and are the foundation upon which all course curriculum frameworks and unit specifications are based. The relevant Principles as stated below have been mapped against the Learning Outcomes relevant to each course unit and at each level (see Programme Specifications for full description of the Five Principles):

1. Cultivate / Where the individual thrives.
2. Collaborate / Where disciplines combine and evolve.
3. Integrate / Where education engages industry.
4. Advocate / Where purpose meets practice.

5. Originate / Where enquiry informs creativity.

Unit Indicative Content

- Developing a concept that becomes a strategy and approach to a series of photographic shoots based on a set of negotiated outcomes.
- Working with a treatment to plan and develop ideas into practicalities that would include contingencies and several approaches to a final outcome.
- The management of time, travel and contacts that might also include a team or set of performers as well as creative support in collaboration with the photographer.
- Intermediate to advanced digital capture and workflow.
- Lighting on location and studio as well as sophisticated approaches to picture making generally.
- The development of images into final print-ready artwork through a process of editing and narrative construction.
- An awareness of the creative role of the photographer within the context of working with a set client or objective.

Unit Aims

To apply practical and self-reflective skills to the creation of ideas and concepts influenced by contemporary sport photographic approaches.

Demonstrate the application of technical and practical expertise on location and in the studio in relation to a client-led creative brief.

To promote critical understanding and creative experimentation within the development of negotiated ideas into completed, final artworks within the context of sport photography.

To generate ideas in response to a brief, and develop and refine them through a process of experimental practice, reflection and evaluation as demonstrated in a digital workbook and accompanying treatment.

Demonstrate research, analytical and self-reflective skills in the delivery of practical project work. Expand on the ability to organise, plan and control varied resources that are involved in the successful completion of a photographic project.

Assessment methods and tasks

Brief description of assessment methods

- Formative Assessment: You will be given the opportunity for formative feedback/feedforward. This will be given midway through the unit or at an appropriate time.
- Summative assessment: Is the completion of the main unit tasks – typically a finished outcome together with associated research and reflective elements and the completion of a digital workbook and accompanying treatments or presentations.
- Presentations to tutors and/or peers are usually within a small group environment where at least two tutors are present. This is an oral examination that would look at the content and the delivery of your presentation.
- In some cases, digital files will be required to assess technical skill.

You will be notified of your grades within 3 weeks of the hand in date and feedback is usually via an audio file in which at least two tutors contribute to feedback and feedforward.

Assessment tasks	Weighting (%) (one grade or multi-grade unit)
A series of images relating to a defined Client Brief.	100%
A comprehensive digital workbook that evidences the development of this work in both a chronological and reflective manner.
